

FedExCup Points in the Playoffs

All Playoff events will award 50,000 total points, as shown below. The final Playoff event, THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola, awards slightly more points per position due to the smaller 30-player field.

Position	First Three Playoff Events	THE TOUR Championship
Total Points	50,000	50,000
1	9,000	10,300
2	5,400	6,200
3	3,400	3,900
4	2,400	2,800
5	2,000	2,300
10	1,350	1,550
30	340	395
70	100

FedExCup Bonus Structure

The FedExCup will award a total of $35 million in bonus money at the conclusion of the Playoffs including $10 million to the FedExCup Champion, the largest single bonus payout in sports.

2007 PGA TOUR
FAN GUIDE & SCHEDULE

PGA TOUR Season Overview

In 2007, the PGA TOUR enters a new era in golf with an exciting season-long points competition called the FedExCup. This competition, spanning 37 weeks, will dramatically change the PGA TOUR, offering fans a new competitive element while giving the sport a more defined “season.”

The PGA TOUR season will now be divided into two parts:

- FedExCup
  - PGA TOUR Regular Season (33 weeks)
  - PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup (4 weeks)
- PGA TOUR Fall Series

FedExCup Overview

PGA TOUR Regular Season

The Regular Season will consist of 36 events in 33 weeks from the beginning of January to the middle of August. Players will accumulate FedExCup points which will determine their seeding for the PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup.

PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup

The Playoffs will consist of four events between late-August and mid-September. These four events will determine the winner of the FedExCup. In addition, the top 30 finishers will be guaranteed exemption for the following year.

PGA TOUR Fall Series

Between late September and early November, a Fall Series of seven tournaments will be conducted to finalize the following year's eligibility for players who do not finish in the top 30 of the FedExCup. Players will vie for positions 31-125, based on final season earnings.

PGA TOUR Regular Season FedExCup Points

Official PGA TOUR events played during the Regular Season will award 25,000 FedExCup points. More points will be allotted to certain events:

- The Masters, THE PLAYERS Championship, U.S. Open, British Open and PGA Championship will award 27,500 FedExCup points.
- World Golf Championships events will award 26,250 FedExCup points.

How Points are Distributed

This table shows the specific number of FedExCup points awarded to each position in a standard Regular Season event.

Position	1	2	3	4	5	10	30	70
Points Awarded	4,500	2,700	1,700	1,200	1,000	675	170	50

Additional events played during the Regular Season will award 12,500 FedExCup points. Additional events are those that are played the same week as the World Golf Championships and British Open.

How The Playoffs Work

At the conclusion of the Regular Season, each player's points total determines his position, or “seed,” going into the PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup. All points will be “reset” for the Playoffs, as shown below. The top 144 players will be eligible.

Regular Season Finish Position	Reset Points
1	100,000
2	99,000
3	98,500
4	98,000
5	97,500
6	97,250
7	97,000
8	96,750
9	96,500
10	96,250
30	93,250
50	91,750
70	90,250
120	86,500
130	85,750
144	84,700

PLAYOFFS

PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup

The Playoffs will consist of four events:

TOURNAMENT	LOCATION	FIELD SIZE
The Barclays	New York	144
Deutsche Bank Championship	Boston	120
BMW Championship	Chicago	70
THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola	Atlanta	30

The PGA TOUR Playoffs for the FedExCup will feature a progressive cut through the first three events to determine the final 30 players who will qualify for THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola, where the FedExCup Champion will be determined. The Barclays opens the Playoffs with 144 players, followed by the Deutsche Bank Championship with 120 and the BMW Championship with 70.
